

Wegner LLP, CPAs and Consultants Joins CPAmerica International Network

MADISON, Wis. – The independent accounting and consulting firm, Wegner LLP, CPAs and Consultants, has strengthened its ability to serve its clients by joining CPAmerica International, one of the largest networks of CPA firms.

CPAmerica International is an exclusive association of more than 70 large, independent CPA firms across the United States that share industry-specific knowledge, continuing professional education programs and practice management techniques.

“Our CPAmerica International membership places us in the unique position of having the best of both worlds,” said Scott R. Haumersen, Managing Partner. “It allows us to maintain a strong connection to our local community while providing more services on a national basis to our clients.”

Wegner LLP, CPAs and Consultants has been providing public accounting and business consulting services for more than 55 years to Wisconsin citizens and businesses. With over 60 employees (36 CPAs) and offices in Madison, Baraboo and Milwaukee, Wegner is one of the larger full-service accounting and consulting firms in south central Wisconsin. The firm offers a client-centered approach to auditing, accounting, QuickBooks® consulting, payroll, tax and valuation services for individuals, small businesses, and nonprofit organizations.

Joining CPAmerica International provides Wegner with opportunities to expand service capabilities, apply knowledge acquired through member networking and gain access to exclusive resources available to association members.

“Our membership with CPAmerica International will give us the contacts and resources necessary to provide clients with the increased services they need to grow and be competitive in the marketplace,” said Haumersen.
